

LOCAL NEWS.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 31.

For this section continued call northwesterly winds, fair weather.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Mr. Wm. D. and a brakeman on a freight train on the Washington Southern Railway, met with a terrible accident about midnight last night, from the effects of which he died this evening. The unfortunate man was on a train which was moving through the city about that hour, and when near the intersection of Prince and Fayette streets he jumped from the cars to go to his home near by, but, from some unforeseen circumstance, he fell on the track, and before he could crawl therefrom, almost the entire right marely hanging by the skin and the left being terribly mashed. Mr. Donald was picked up and taken to the Baltimore, where Drs. O'Brien, Smith and Ashby attempted the right limb, but the wretched condition of the injured man was such that it was deemed prudent not to remove the limb. A sad feature of the accident was the fact that Mrs. Donald was standing in her door at the time of the accident waiting her husband's return home. The moon was shining brightly, by the aid of which she saw him make the unfortunate jump, and was made an unwilling witness of the terrible fate which befell him.

DEATH OF REV. DR. NELSON.—The Rev. Dr. Cleland Kinloch Nelson, dean of the congregation of Washington, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, died yesterday at the residence of his son, John M. Nelson, at Belvoir, near Spotswood, Baltimore county. He was born at Belvoir, the home of the Nelsons, in Albemarle county, in 1814. His grandfather, Thomas Nelson, of Yorktown, was one of the early governors of Virginia, and Dr. Nelson's father, Thomas Hugh Nelson, was one of the speakers of the Virginia house of delegates. Dr. Nelson received his early education in Virginia and completed the regular course at Dickinson College, Pennsylvania. After his graduation he studied theology at the Episcopal Seminary near this city, where he was ordained in 1838 by Bishop Meade. His first charge was in Albemarle county, Va., which he resigned in order to become rector of a parish at Marlboro' Md.

I. O. O. F. FAIR.—The fair being held by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at their hall on north Columbus street was fairly well attended last night, and the managers have every reason to be sanguine as to its financial success. The following is the vote for the various articles to be disposed of:

I. O. O. F. ring: T. Warnock, 20; P. C. Timmerman, 18; G. W. Burt, 5.

I. O. O. F. G. ring: G. T. Price, 5; G. S. Finch, 11; P. M. Bradshaw, 4.

Gold watch: Grace Marshall, 10; Grace Darling, 15; Rosie Cline, 8.

Ladies' diamond ring: Abbie Bettie, 6; Bartie Cox, 30; Lizzie Wheatley, 5; Mrs. Annie Bull, 35; Mrs. Henry Kraft, 156.

Red Men's pin: C. Glings, 7; Harvey Hamilton, 4.

Mechanics' pin: Chauncey Davis, 7; W. M. Glasgow, 21.

POLICE REPORT.—Last night was cloudy and cool till about 12 o'clock when it became clear. There were two prisoners and no burglars at the station house.

Justice May presided at the Mayor's office to-day and disposed of the following cases:

Napoleon Jasper, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged.

Lewis Patton, colored, for an assault on Robert Walker, also colored, was fined $5 and put under bond to keep the peace for 6 months.

Jos. Wanzar, colored, charged with assaulting and beating a white man named Thos Cox, on north Columbus street two weeks ago, was fined $30 and costs. After the trial Cox was sent back to the Infirmary where he has been since the assault.

HALLOWEEN AND ALL SAINTS' DAY.—To-morrow the festival of All Saints' and Halloween, or the vigil of All Hallowes, occurs to-night. All Hallowes' was, in England and Scotland, long considered the occasion for harmless frolics and revelries, by many persons as a means of divination, by which to discover a future sweetheart. These divinations still amuse the young folks of all English-speaking communities, and to-night many in this city will spend pleasant moments in trying their fortunes and endeavoring to discover who their sweethearts will be. Some Alexandria boys amuse themselves throwing cabbage stalks at the doors of houses. All Saints' day is observed in all Catholic and Episcopal churches, and a few Methodist churches take that occasion to hold special prayer meetings.

GENERAL LEE'S CHANCES.—Mr. Elyson received a letter this morning from Mr. Leonard Marbury, of Alexandria, chairman of the Election district committee. He says Lee will certainly be elected by 1,000 majority. His chances have improved considerably in the past few days. Mr. Marbury thinks Hume is stronger in Alexandria city and county than in any other portion of the district, but even in the city and county he is losing his support, and the democrats expect to carry one district in the county which was up to a few days ago regarded as safe for the independent candidate—Richmond State.

THE REVIVAL which has been in progress at the Baptist Church for the last three weeks will close to-night. Rev. Mr. Robertson, of Martinsburg, W. Va., who has preached during the meeting, will deliver his last sermon to-night. By his clear, earnest and tender sermons he has shown himself an able preacher of the Gospel and greatly endeared himself to those who heard him. Up to this time nearly sixty persons have made profession of faith in Christ, many of whom have already offered themselves for baptism and membership in this church.

PERSONAL.—Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. Richard M. Green to Miss Nannie Yule, to take place at Christ Church, Thursday morning, November 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ruxbury will celebrate their golden wedding on to-morrow, November 1st. There will be no gathering of friends at their residence, but they are receiving the warm congratulations of their numerous acquaintances at being so well preserved.

METHODIST ELECTION.—The congregation of Trinity M. E. Church was called upon to vote on Wednesday night on the question, "Shall women be made eligible as lay delegates to the General Conference of the M. E. Church?" The pastor, Rev. Dr. Steford and Messrs. J. C. O'Neil and A. C. Harmon had charge of the voting. The congregation has about 250 members but only 37 of them voted, and at the close of the polls the vote stood: affirmative, 17; negative, 20.

ANOTHER TRAIN.—Owing to the fact that the Richmond and Danville officers found it impossible to get the rolling stock for the proposed through vestibule limited train, that scheme had to be temporarily abandoned, but the heavy and increasing travel over the Piedmont Air Line route absolutely necessitates another passenger train between Washington and Atlanta and this train will be put on next Sunday.

OPERA HOUSE.—To-night will be presented one of the New York Theatre Co.'s greatest plays, "The Pearl of Savoy." The piece is presented by this company, has never failed to give satisfaction. All the characters are well taken, the specialties introduced are new and pleasing, and the comedy scenes contagious. A matinee for ladies and children will be given to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, on which occasion the "Mountain Pink" will be presented.

She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. GOODS DELIVERED IN ALEXANDRIA.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP,

CORNER 11th AND F STREETS, N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

The South—Virginia—Alexandria.

The public sale of lots by the North West Alexandria Improvement Company takes place next month—the 11th, 12th and 13th. The history of such sales in Virginia has been one of large and quick profit. Why? Simply because capital, brains and energy combined are at work in Virginia. Kansas, Colorado and other western states have each in turn had their day—this is Virginia's day. We are to get in the coming decade (which we have not had in the past) our full share of the natural increase of about twenty millions of people in the United States. Nay, it may be put stronger; we are to get very much more than our share, for the current of immigration and capital (hitherto set westward) has already set southward. This whole country, and Europe as well, is being attracted by the great industrial revolution now going on in the South, and the untold wealth buried in the mountains of Virginia is especially focusing the eye of capital, and of muscle as well.

The following words of that peerless southern patriot, Henry W. Grady, were expressed by him, only a very few years ago, to the people of Texas. Note how applicable they are to the State of Virginia, in the light of her history now making. Speaking of the wonderful possibilities of the cotton crop of the South, he says:

"It is the heritage that God gave us when he arched our skies, established our mountains, girt us about with the ocean, tempered the sunshine, and measured the rain—our and our children's forever."

Speaking of her mineral and other resources:

In 1890 the South made 212,000 tons of iron; 187,845,000 tons. There is now actually being, or has finished this year, furnaces that will produce more than her entire product of last year. Our coal supply is exhaustless. In marble and granite we have no rivals, as to quality or quantity. In lumber our riches are even vaster. More than fifty per cent. of our entire area is in forests, making the South the best timbered region of the world. We have enough merchantable yellow pine to bring, in money, $2,500,000,000, a sum the vastness of which can only be understood when I say it nearly equaled the assessed value of the South in trading cities for its farms, mines, factories and personal property of every description whatever. Back of this are forests of hard woods, and measureless swamps of cypress and gum. Think of it. In cotton a monopoly. In iron and coal establishing swift mastery. In granite and marble deriving equal advantage and resource. In yellow pine and hard woods the cotton treasury. Surely the axis of the South's wealth and power is laid by the hand of the Almighty God, and its prosperity has been established by divine law which works in eternal justice and not by taxes levied on its neighbors through human statutes. Paying tribute for fifty years that under artificial conditions other regions might reach a prosperity impossible under natural laws, it has grown apace.

Again speaking of diversified industries, he says:

With amazing rapidity she has moved away from the one-crop idea that was common in 1870 she has become a prosperous State. Since that time she has added 393,000,000 bushels to her grain crops, and 182,000,000 head to her live stock. This has not less her one-half of her cotton crop, which, on the contrary, has increased nearly 200,000 bales. With equal swiftness she has moved away from the policy of shipping out her raw cotton and buying it back in finished goods from $20 to $100 per ton; her cotton at 10 cents a pound and buying it back in cloth at 20 to 80 cents per pound; her timber at $8 per thousand and buying it back in furniture at ten to twenty times as much. In the past eight years $250,000,000 have been invested in new shops and factories in her States; 225,000 artisans are now working that eight years ago were idle or worked elsewhere, and these added $227,000,000 to the value of her raw material—more than half the value of her cotton. Add to this the value of her increased grain crop and stock, and in the past eight years she has grown in her fields or created in her shops and manufacturing plants the value of her cotton crop. The incoming tide has begun to rise. Every train brings manufacturers from the East and West seeking to establish themselves or their sons near the raw material and in this growing market.

We are getting, and are to get a still more in the future, both the money and the population, which is to make of Virginia a great manufacturing State, and why not? With suggestive wealth smiling welcome on its very surface, with law and order, as a guarantee to investors, with a feeble climate, and a reliable rain-fall, why should not Virginia be more attractive to settlers, as to capital, than the lawless, blizzard consumed and parched wastes of the far west?

There is a larger reward awaiting energy and nerve in the near future, in the State of Virginia, than in any spot in this great country, as the American yankee is already proving this to be true.

There has been a great deal of speculation to new towns in Virginia. Cities have been born and grown to full cityhood in a day, but it is observed that the shrewdest dealers are turning their attention now more to the extension and development of the older and well established cities, where there is more reality, and less paper; where trade and business channels are already fixed, located by natural trade laws, and backed up by substantial population, church, school, market and other facilities. Such a city is ours, and the initial movement of the North West Co. to invite attention, and investment here, is but the picket line, preceding the great engagement. There are other movements to follow, which, each in turn, can but make the property of the early investor double and treble in his hands. Make no mistake, secure your lot, or lots early. If necessary, begin now to arrange your finances so as to compass one or more of these desirable lots; visit the property, get upon its heights and take in the magnificent views which present themselves for miles, and you will be convinced of the real solid merits of this offering. The terms of sale are made easy to suit the masses—one fifth cash, and the balance in monthly installments of five per cent. Of the many lots in this property there may be found something to please all tastes as to location and to suit the purse of every intending purchaser. Imagine yourself the purchaser of an eligible lot on the 11th of November, for say, $300, upon a cash payment of only $60. It is not much of a stretch of the imagination to see, in the very near future, ground broken for a score or more of pretty dwelling around your lot, busy hands laying the iron for the Alexandria and Fairfax Passenger Railway through East Broad street, Mount Vernon Line or Lloyd avenues, an artistic suburban hotel in course of construction, and, in short, to find that your lot, bought for a very small cash payment, and with smaller sums periodically (which you have paid so easily as not to have missed the amount), will now command $1,500. There are hundreds of test-monies to lay to just such experiences in this State. We have said: "This is Virginia's day." We now say, in connection with this movement of the North West Alexandria Improvement Company, "This is Alexandria's day; it is your day." It remains, therefore, to be seen whether you are wise enough to avail yourself of the suggestions thrown out.

What has been the history of the sale of stock of this company? In other places the stock of such companies has been taken up so promptly that the directors have closed the books to home investors in order to place the stock with outside parties, and thus bring an infusion of new blood into their enterprises. The people of Alexandria and vicinity have been so cautious in taking hold, that there is a proposition being now discussed in the board of directors to authorize outside parties to dispose of all the remaining shares. If this should be done the stock will go at once to a premium, and when the sale is closed it will go to par with a bound, thus realizing several hundred per cent. profit. We repeat again, make no mistake. This movement is not forced, it is born of the needs of the present hour, and is at once a healthy plan for making money, by keeping abreast with the times while offering good values to all investors. Let the croakers croak; act then like a sensible man, and put your money into the North West stock, and secure a fund for the purchase of one or more lots on the day of sale. It ought to strike you as rather unlikely that property immediately adjoining Alexandria, and within twenty minutes of the most beautiful city in the world, should decline in value.

With therefore, an absolute assurance against loss, and the prospect of large gains, what ought you to do in this matter?

Handy for travellers is Simmons Liver Regulator in powder. It can be carried in the pocket.
